It's a busy afternoon downtown. People are busy, and the stores are busy, too. Oh, look! There's an accident at the intersection of Smith Street and North Main Street. Mr. Thomas works at the bakery, and he drives the delivery truck. He's talking to the other driver. Over in the park, Elena is watching the children. The children are playing on the swings. They're having a good time. There's a coffee shop on North Main Street. There are two tables in front of the coffee shop. Joseph is sitting at a table. He's reading the newspaper and drinking a cup of coffee. Jane is sitting at the other table. She's reading a book. Mark is the waiter. He's bringing Jane some ice cream. Uh-oh! Mrs. Lee is running to her car. Officer Ortiz is standing next to her car. He's writing her a ticket. Oh, how wonderful! Michael and Luisa are in front of City Hall. They're getting married today.

My Local Park

I live in a big city with my wife and son. I love the city, but it's busy and noisy. Every Saturday morning, my son and I go to our local park. It's beautiful and quiet. The park is behind City Hall. It's only four blocks from our apartment. We can walk there.

There is a pond in the center of the park. On Saturdays, there are many people walking and running around the pond. There is a coffee shop next to the pond. I like to buy a coffee, and I usually buy my son an orange juice. There is a playground behind the coffee shop. My son likes to play on the swings.

On Saturday afternoons, my son plays baseball in the park. His games start at two o'clock. My wife sometimes comes to the park to watch him play. We enjoy talking with the other parents. We don't always speak English at home, so it's a good opportunity for us to practice.

Our local park is a great place for both me and my son. And best of all, it's free!

Monica is from Cuba. Cuba is an island in the Caribbean. It's hot there all year. Now, Monica is living in Boston, Massachusetts. Monica came to the United States in May. She liked the weather in Boston in June, July, and August. It was sunny and hot. September was warm, and Monica was comfortable. But now it is December. Monica can't believe the weather! It's very cold. It's 30 degrees. Her friends tell her, "This isn't cold yet! In January, it's going to be colder. And it's going to snow soon." Monica is at the clothing store with her sister. Monica needs warm clothes. She needs a coat. She needs a hat and gloves, too. She is also going to buy a sweater. Monica is standing in front of the mirror. She's trying on coats. She isn't comfortable. She's saying, "This coat feels so heavy."

1.

Monica: I don't like this weather. It's too cold.

Lydia: It's only December. It isn't cold yet. Wait until January!

2.

Lydia: Here's a nice coat. Try it on.

Monica: I don't like the color. Do they have a red or a blue coat?

3.

Monica: Gloves? Why do I need gloves?

Lydia: Try on these ones. Believe me. You need them.

4.

Monica: How do you like this coat?

Lydia: It doesn't fit you. It's too big.

5.

Monica: Do you like this sweater?

Lydia: Yes, it looks good on you.

Narrator: Jason. Four stars.

Jason: Good quality, but the small size didn't fit me. Buy the next size up.

Narrator: Antonio. Three stars.

Antonio: This jacket is a good price, and it's comfortable. The quality of this jacket is not great.

Narrator: Scotty. Two stars.

Scotty: I'm not happy with the color of this jacket. I ordered blue, but it is not the same color as the picture. It's very dark, almost black.

Narrator: Malik. Five stars.

Malik: This jacket looks great, and it's soft and comfortable. It's good for cool weather.

Narrator: Andy. Three stars.

Andy: The jacket looks okay, but it's very light. I need a jacket for cool weather in the fall. This jacket is too thin, and I feel cold in it.

Narrator: Smoky. One star.

Smoky: I only had this jacket one week and the zipper broke. Also, the pockets are too small. I returned it.

Narrator: Sally. Four stars.

Sally: I bought this jacket for my son. He wears medium-sized clothes, but the jacket was too small. I returned it for a large. He loves it!

Customer: Yes, I want to return this sweater.

Clerk: Do you have the receipt?

Customer: Yes, here it is.

Clerk: Let's see. The sweater was twenty-nine dollars.

Customer: With tax, it was thirty dollars and forty-five cents.

Clerk: Do you want to exchange the sweater?

Customer: No, I'd like a refund.

Clerk: Okay. No problem.
