

Presentation

Some phrasal verbs have three parts – a verb and two particles:

We just want to get on with our work.

Stand up for your rights!

We're looking forward to using the new road.

We won't put up with the noise.

Three-part phrasal verbs with one object

All three-part phrasal verbs are transitive, i.e. they have an object. When the verb has only one object, the object comes after the second particle:

They soon got on with their work.

I think you stood up to him very well.

Other verbs that follow this pattern include: come up with, come down with, face up to, get away with, get down to, go through with, live up to, look up to.

Three-part phrasal verbs with two objects

A few three-part phrasal verbs have two objects. The first object comes after the verb and the second object comes after the two particles:

She played one boy off against the other.

I've decided to take you up on your offer.

Other verbs that follow this pattern include: put (something) down to (something), put (somebody) up to (something), talk (somebody) round to (something).

Two-part phrasal verbs + dependent preposition

Some phrasal verbs can be both intransitive (i.e. have no object) and transitive (i.e. have an object).

Intransitive: We get on.

Transitive: I don't get on with my brother.

When there is no object, they have two parts:

He says he's going to drop out. (drop + out = leave school or college without finishing your course of studies)

When there is an object, you need to add a dependent preposition (drop + out + of).

He says he's going to drop out of school.

Other verbs that follow this pattern include: catch up (on/with), go out (with), keep up (with), move out (of), run out (of).
